The Money Store

A modern bank is a great deal like a general store in some respects. Its lines are varied. It caters to everybody and every line of business. We have something that everybody wants. We do not wrap our goods in packages but we deliver them just the same. We do not refer to money alone, although that is our principal stock in trade. We can render some service to everybody. Whether it is financing a huge manufacturing concern or loaning Johnnie enough money to buy a calf, we are here to deliver the goods. We urge you to come in and look over our lines. We can serve you well.

To Be Shown at Dreamland Theatre
October 5th—D. W. Griffith's
Supreme Triumph, "Hearts of the World."

"Hearts of the World," the supreme triumph of D. W. Griffith, to be presented at the Dreamland on Saturday matinee and night, October 5th, inaugurates a new era in the realms of the screen drama. Here, with the great war as a background, Mr. Griffith has filmed a simple little love story, old as the ages yet ever new. "Hearts of the World" has proven the latest sensation in the screen world. Mr. Griffith realized that the public which became enthusiastic over "The Birth of a Nation" and "Intolerance" would expect something big from him in this latest picture, and therefore instead of trying to outdo himself in staging gigantic battle scenes, he used the Great War only as a background for the filming of a simple and attractive story of tremendous human interest.

"Hearts of the World" shows the happy, peaceful life of the people of a small village before the grim horror War reared its ugly head over the horizon. The causes that led up to war are shown; the meeting of the English Parliament on the eventful night when the vote was cast for war; the session of the French senate voting upon the Declaration of War; the session of the cabinet awaiting the fatal hour when the ultimatum sent to Germany would expire: These scenes come as a prelude; then the great drama begins when the German hordes enter France.

In taking the battle pictures for "Hearts of the World," Mr. Griffith had the assistance and co-operation of the British War Office. It is the opinion of all who have seen "Hearts of the World," that Mr. Griffith has outdone his own best achievements and has established a new artistic record which it will take years and years for someone else to equal, if indeed such a thing is possible.

The performances start promptly at 2 and 8 p. m. and last three full hours. The company's own grand symphony Orchestra accompanies the attraction. Children under six will not be admitted and the prices for the matinee are 25c, 50c and 75c, and at night $1.00 each.

SHARE OUR SUGAR WITH THE ALLIES

British Get Two Pounds a Month.
French Pound and Half,
Italians One Pound.

GERMAN SUPPLY PLENTIFUL.

All Nations Permit Use of Sweetening for Home Preserving Purposes.

America's new sugar ration of two pounds a month per person is equitable when compared with the sugar ration enforced by rigid governmental order in England, France and Italy, nations with which we are sharing sugar. Each Allied nation—in the matter of sugar consumption—is sharing on nearest possible equal terms the hardships imposed by greatly altered conditions in the world sugar situation.

Formerly classed as a luxury, sugar is now a war time essential. The fair and just division of this essential is in the hands of the various Allied food controllers.

The United States Food Administration has asked this nation to observe a voluntary sugar ration of two pounds per person a month.

In the other countries at war with Germany sugar is one of the scarce articles on every menu—whether in the households of both rich and poor, or in the hotels.

England today has a sugar ration of two pounds per month per person. In France the ration is a pound and a half and in Italy it is one pound a month. And the prices in allied countries are from two to three times as high as in America.

If you go to a hotel in England or France these days and order tea or coffee they serve absolutely no sugar with it. If you want sugar you must bring it with you.

In England it is allowable to use one-seventh of an ounce of sugar in the preparation of each luncheon. In France many persons carry little saccharine tablets about with them for use in hotels and in England rich and poor must take their sugar with them if they wish to have sweetened tea while visiting friends.

Before the war started France had 625,000 acres devoted to sugar production. By 1917 the French sugar acreage had decreased to 180,000 acres. Today the French man or woman with a sugar card has no assurance whatever that he or she will be able to actually buy sugar. To buy it, one must first find it.

Italy Has "State Sugar."

Especially drastic regulations govern the use of sugar in Italy. Its manufacture, distribution and sale are closely controlled, and in part actually taken over by the state.

Saccharine is permitted to be sold and used as a substitute for sugar and the government manufactures a mixture of saccharine and sugar called "State Sugar," which is largely used.

German Sugar Ration Adequate. Germany, before the war, produced a great surplus of sugar and exported large quantities. Today the Germans have virtually gone out of the export business, but have plenty of cheap sugar for home use.

Wholesale prices prevalent in the Allied nations, according to information received by the United States Food Administration are as follows: England, 10 cents a pound; France, 12 cents; Italy, 20 cents. While these high prices are being paid abroad the American wholesale price is being held at 7 1/2 cents.

The World's Holidays.

According to statistics drawn up by the Guaranty Trust company of New York, during the present year there are only eighty-four days on which banks are open everywhere in the world. On every one of the other 281 days some nation somewhere will be celebrating a civil or religious holiday, or observing the Sabbath. Only one of these holidays is universal. This is New Year's day, and eleven different dates are observed by various countries as the beginning of a new year. Some countries observe more than one during the calendar year. Five Christian countries do not observe Christmas as a legal holiday.

Happiness of Olden Days.

In the days when a Maypole stood in the Strand, music was one of the great pastimes of the people of merry England. Those were the times of good Queen Bess and her Stuart successors. The cittern was heard in every barber's shop: "Go into a barber's anywhere, no matter in what district, and it is ten to one you will hear the sounds either of a fiddle or a guitar, or see the instruments hanging up somewhere." The barbers or their apprentices were the performers: "If idle, they pass their time in life-deighting music." So writes a pamphleteer in 1707.
